Starlight Racing Update

Justify - the 13th Triple Crown champion

A racehorse is an animal that can take several thousand people for a ride at the same time. - author unknown

This famous quote rings truer than ever after Justify captured the hearts of the nation as he took our partners on the ride of a lifetime with a sweep of the Triple Crown.

Justify earned a spot among Thoroughbred racing's immortal in the Belmont Stakes. We have had the privilege of sharing this whirlwind adventure with our partners in Starlight Racing as well as WinStar Farm, China Horse Club, Head of Plains Partners, LLC and SF Bloodstock.

Jack Wolf, the founder of Starlight Racing alongside his wife, Laurie, was able to take a moment and reflect on the Triple Crown - horse racing's most coveted prize - after the historic weekend. Of all three triumphs, the image that has resonated the most with Wolf is that of Justify's white blaze emerging from the dense blanket of fog in the Preakness Stakes and watching the colt valiantly hold on for victory to keep the Triple Crown dream alive.

"This is just the ultimate achievement for a three-year-old colt and to be a part of it took a lot of effort but, more than that, good luck," said Wolf. "I appreciate each and every partner that has put his or her money up and stuck with us through both the bad and good crops of horses. This makes me want even more success and I hope to see stakes-placed Sombeyay carry the torch this time next year."

Teamwork makes the dream work. Without the extraordinary team behind Justify, none of this would have been possible. We were thrilled for the opportunity to recognize the people behind this great horse on Wednesday with for the team at the barn at Churchill Downs.

Teamwork makes the dream work. Without the extraordinary team behind Justify: Eduardo Luna (groom), Humberto Gomez (exercise rider) and Jimmy Barnes (assistant trainer), none of this would have been possible. We were thrilled for the opportunity to recognize the people behind this great horse on Wednesday with lunch on behalf of Starlight Racing at the Baffert barn at Churchill Downs.
